

Charleston Day School
Summer Reading List 2019
Rising Fourth Graders

Welcome to the fourth grade! I am looking forward to having each of you in my language arts class in August. Summer is a great time to relax, have fun, and enjoy good books.

I am asking each student to read three books over the summer. All students will read one required book and then choose two books from the list provided below. In order for books to count towards your summer reading requirement, the book title or book from a series must be on the list. Students will not get credit for reading books that are not included on the list. You are encouraged to read more than three books if you would like!

Required Book:

Insignificant Events in the Life of a Cactus* by Dusti Bowling

1. Please complete the Crazy Arm Story writing that is your own story about how Aven loses her arms. Use lots of hyperbole (exaggeration) like the character, Aven.
2. There will be an assessment of some kind the first week of school relating to the book.

Two Additional Books:

Choose two books from the attached list.

1. Please keep a list that includes the title, author, and number of pages in each book you read on the book log and have a parent sign this list. I will collect the list the first day of school.
2. You will complete a brief assessment on these two books during the first week of school.

HINT: As you read, write notes on a 4x6 notecard that include brief descriptions of the main characters and key events. You may use these notes while working on the summer reading assignment we will complete in class when we return in the fall.

As with all other homework assignments in the fourth grade, you will be held responsible for your work. Please do not make your first days at school stressful by not completing the reading assignment over the summer. Pace yourself! A good strategy would be to complete half the reading by July 4.

Book Choices

Please choose books that you have not read before.

Books are grouped by genre. Please keep in mind that many books overlap into other genres. For example, a book in the fantasy group might also be considered a mystery or an adventure book, but I will only have it listed in one category.

A Crazy Arm Story

DIRECTIONS: Aven tells lots of different stories about how she lost her arms. Make up your own version of a way that Aven lost her arms. Re-read some of Aven's stories from the book for inspiration. Neat handwriting, 5+ complete sentences.

A large rectangular writing area with a decorative border of 'x' marks and dots. Inside, there are 18 horizontal lines for writing. At the bottom center, there is a line drawing of a cactus with several arms and a small round cactus at its base.
